“The Zero Moment of Truth”

DataCaptureNow is a next generation SMS/Text messaging and email marketing platform.

DataCaptureNow allows you to instantly connect with prospects as they are searching for information about you or your products.

Imagine your prospect standing outside your location, smart phone in hand. They scan a QR Code on a poster or ad or send a text message! A mobile web page opens up on their phone. The mobile page contains images and descriptions of your company and or products, has a short form at the bottom with data fields for the prospect to fill out and submit.

Instantly you receive a text message and/or email with the prospect's information including their cell phone number. You know have their “opt-in” information to further prompt their buying decisions and make them a new customer!
